

HeForShe

@Nagoya University

Nagoya University has been selected as one of the University Impact Champions by UN Women to promote the HeForShe campaign. HeForShe is a solidarity movement for gender equality, and engaging men in gender equality is a major aim. At the kickoff symposium, male participants will discuss how men can take actions against gender inequalities. Gender equality benefits not only women but also men. Let's build a more just and equal world!
